MATERIAL FOR PUBLICATION

THE REPORT welcomes manuscripts of OHIO material for proposed publication. All manuscripts should be sent to:

THE EDITOR, 4649 YARMOUTH LANE, YOUNGSTOWN, OH 44512

The manuscript should be typed on standard-sized paper and have the author's name on each page; the pages should be numbered. A cover letter, giving permission from the author to publish the material in THE REPORT, should accompany the manuscript. Restrictions of any kind may not be placed on material to be published.

When sending photocopies of original old manuscripts, such as handwritten Bible records, please send a typed transcript for us to work from; it is usually much clearer on the original in your possession than on a photocopy.

The types of records requested for publication include Bible records, Ohio county court records (marriages, deed abstracts, naturalizations, will abstracts or other), Ohio cemetery inscriptions (not alphabetized), "How-To" articles (the use of special collections, holdings of a particular repository, etc.), abstracts from Ohio newspapers, brief family genealogies with Ohio connections (fully documented) and other material of an unusual but useful nature. The Editor makes the final decision on material to be published. Following publication, all original material is placed in the Ohio Genealogical Society Library in Mansfield. Every effort is made to present authentic material, but the Ohio Genealogical Society cannot be responsible for the accuracy or the publishing rights of the material furnished by contributors. All material is published with the permission of the contributor.

ALEXANDER MCKITTRICK: AMERICAN PIONEER

by BEN KOCH, 123 High St., St. Clairsville OH 43950

BEN KOCH is a 9th grade student at St. Clairsville High School, and is the Senior Division winner of the 1990 Ohio Genealogical Society Essay Contest. He is a member of the Ohio Genealogical Society & the Belmont County Chapter, OGS.

Alexander McKittrick did not know that he would found a great family and be known as a true patriot and pioneer when he arrived in America. He, his parents, and his brother John had been shipwrecked off Cape May on the ship Edinburg. It must have been a frightening experience for a boy of eight, but the McKittrick family was not easily discouraged. They and their poor possessions did survive.

I can only guess at Alexander's appearance as a youth, or older man, but it probably reflected the land he came from, his strength, and his adventurous spirit. He came from northern Ireland, but his roots extended back to Scotland. The homeland of his ancestors included Ayr, Kirkcudbright, Wigtown, Dumfries and Selkirk shires, an area under the control of the Douglas clan. At the time of James I of England, and James VI of Scotland, many of Scotland's Presbyterians were pressured into plantation migration to northern Ireland. Through the years, life in Ireland became so bad that many of these people immigrated to America.

Alexander was apparently set in his ways and fiercely independent. The stories of my family describe him in his old age. When men were wearing long trousers and boots, he wore knee breeches, a wide brimmed hat, and old-style shoes with large silver buckles!

Alexander lived most of his young life near and in York Towne, Pennsylvania. It must have been an exciting and bustling place in the 1700's. In his youth, Alexander was a rather prosperous maker of boots, shoes, and leather goods. In York, he met and married Catherine Baker c1778. She was born there c1758. In her childhood, she had been greeted by General George Washington as he rode by on his horse. She was the daughter of German immigrants. At the time of her marriage to Alexander, her father had died, and her mother had remarried. Alexander was able to buy his property near York Towne for about 1300. This was the first of many successful business deals that Alexander was to make.

When the Revolutionary War began, Alexander started his career as a soldier. This was to be only one of his great adventures. The Scot-Irish McKittrick ancestors had little love for the British, nor did Alexander. He enlisted in the Continental Army and appears as a Private, 2nd Class, 1777-1780 on the muster roll of Captain Peter Forte's 3rd Co., 3rd Battalion, York Co. Militia. Next he is found under the command of Captain John Ehrman's 1st Company, 1st Battalion, in 1781 and then in 1782 he is listed as a Sergeant in Peter Ford's 4th Company, 1st Battalion as a cannoneer.

Military service in this era of American history required that a man be tough, self-sufficient, and most of all--a survivor. Supplies, provisions, and medical help were hard to find.

The Continental Army of the Revolution was short on funds, but long on politicians hoping to advance their fortunes. A man had to be a great patriot with a taste for action. As a cannoneer, Alexander was surely in the "thick" of many a bloody battle.

As a reward for his military service, Alexander was given one hundred acres of bounty land. Amazingly, this land was adjacent to his own land in York Township. Evidently, Alexander had some political influence as much bounty land was awarded by chance, and was often in remote wilderness areas.

At this point in his life, Alexander began a pattern of buying, developing, and selling land for a profit. His mind was now turning to domestic, rather than war-like pursuits. Four daughters and three sons were born during this time and the family moved westward to settle on one hundred and sixty five acres in Wayne Township, Mifflin County, Pennsylvania. Alexander's brother John had settled in Washington Co., PA, and encouraged him to move further onward to join him in the gently rolling, yet rich farmland. John himself would eventually move on, but Alexander would remain for a while. His children grew up and began forming families of their own.

In 1814, an alarm was ringing throughout the country. America was in trouble. Alexander once again, in his old age (he was about 67 years old), answered a call to arms. Washington D.C. had fallen to the hated British. The White House and many public buildings were being destroyed. Baltimore was under siege and being evacuated. For Alexander, this situation could not be tolerated. Catherine must have begged him not to go. What could an old man like him do? But Alexander knew the country could once again use a good Cannoneer, and he went! He traveled to Fort M'Henry in Baltimore. The situation was grim and no one expected the fort to be able to hold off against heavy shelling from the British gunboats. Alexander volunteered and was readily accepted. How he must have inspired the failing courage of the young troops! If this old man could face death from British guns and overheated cannon, so could they! According to the story passed through the generations from Catherine Shaver, his daughter, Alexander courageously manned his cannon through the twenty-five hour bombardment of the fort. This family story from my 4th great-grandmother tells that the thumb that Alexander used for tamping gunpowder through this heated and dramatic battle, was burned to ashes from the heat of that cannon. The tide of battle turned. The cannon had done their job. The Star Spangled Banner flew in the morning and defeat was turned to sweet victory. Because of this, when I hear the National Anthem, I remember the courage of Alexander McKittrick.

Alexander returned to Washington County, knowing he had done his duty to his beloved country. Some of his children had moved to Belmont County, Ohio, on the Ohio River. They convinced the old pioneer that the land in this area was indeed very good. He sold the Washington County land in 1816 at a good profit (of course).

He settled in Belmont County, Ohio. He bought and operated a mill on McMahon Creek in Richland Township. The site of this mill is within walking distance of where I now live. The mill was profitable and Alexander bought forty adjoining acres. Most men would have been content to finish their days here. His children were nearby, he owned a profitable business, and he wasn't getting any younger! But Alexander did not settle down to rest. A very old friend told him of richer, greener land in Indiana. He explored the country and was easily sold. He bought property and built a cabin for himself and Catherine.

In 1821, he sold the mill for a healthy profit but kept the forty acres provided he rented it for $300.00 a year--a lifetime lease. This time, Alexander hedged his bet. Maybe he was planning to move back if Indiana did not work out. He built a large flatboat which was poled down McMahon's Creek. It was fitted with a small steam engine. When he, Catherine, and their son William reached the Ohio River, they crossed to pick up their daughter Susannah Kidd and her family of a husband and seven children.

Shortly after departure, tragedy struck. Alexander and Catherine's young grandson, John Kidd, disappeared from a landing party, never to be seen again. He was last seen by his mother, chasing butterflies. After three days of frantic searching, the family continued on their way in mourning.

The mourning was not to end. Shortly after their arrival in Indiana, Alexander and Catherine were killed. No descendant has ever been found by any researcher who knows the tale. Some suspect Alexander's cash box had something to do with it.

It is known that they died at the same time near Petersburg, Indiana, on the White River. An estate file exists in this place, puzzling that a good and thorough businessman such as Alexander would not have a will. The estate file contains a receipt for two coffins, proving that Alexander and Catherine died at or near the same time. He and Catherine had been in good health on the journey to Indiana, and according to the estate file, no bill for a doctor had to be paid in the final expenses. Foul play was a strong possibility.

ALEXANDER McKITTRICK: AMERICAN PIONEER

An estate sale was held, and many of the listed items tell much about their owners. First, there were many possessions, indicating a large house. There was enough bedroom furniture for two bedrooms and enough fireplace hardware for two fire places. There was linen, leather, shoemaking tools, good bedding, solid silverware, and tea and coffee pots. There was a razor and a hone that Alexander had used. He was clean shaven! There were two barrels of very good whiskey. There were eyeglasses, a family bible, and Alexander's "day-book." These have disappeared. There was a ladies' saddle, corn.

wheat, and bacon. These things were sold and the profit divided among the heirs. The land was sold for a fraction of its price. Alexander would have been angry! What a misuse of his earthly possessions.

After their deaths in July 1822, Alexander and Catherine were buried in the Stewart Family Cemetery, near the site of their cabin. Their personal plans for the future would never be realized. Yet, the future does go on. Their descendants remember their pioneer spirit, and follow its light.

WINCHESTER BATTLE

Beverly Todd Reed, 1302 Corry Ave., Toledo OH 43614

Two articles appeared in the DAILY TOLEDO BLADE, on 29 Mar 1862 (p2) and 31 Mar 1862 (p2), telling of the Winchester Battle, involving men of the 7th, 8th and 67th Ohio Regiments. The first list states "the following is a list, as far as ascertained, of the wounded of these regiments in hospital at Winchester." Another list shows "the following additional names of wounded and killed are contained in yesterday's New York Papers." The March 31st article states: "The family of Dr. Forbes, Surgeon of the 67th Regt., have received a letter from him, giving an interesting account of the Battle of Winchester, and of the part borne in it by the 67th, which has been placed in our hands, but too late for publication entire today. The following report of the killed and wounded furnished by him is the most complete yet received." Some of the entries in Dr. Forbes' list give the extent of the injuries; this has not been copied here. The letter was written in Camp, 3 miles south of Winchester. [Some of the names appear twice: first on the 29 March list, and again on the 31 March list]. These lists have been combined and alphabetized for ease in reading.

In the archival collections of the Ashtabula County District Library System there is housed an old hotel register. It is for the Fisk House that was on Main Street in Ashtabula. This register covers 1861 through April 2, 1866, when the hotel closed. In 1862, E.G.Gleason was proprietor. Under the date of January 8, 1862, we find the following registration:

"O.C.Tracy, Agent of the Children's Aid Society N.Y. with 23 children from the Soc. as follows -

(NOTE: after the name Alfred Carpenter is the notation "Cleveland." The "f" in the name Canafaud could be P or the double S.)

This is the complete list and no other information is available. Since the Register is fragile, it cannot be xeroxed. There is no indication that any of the children from this orphan train were placed here. The registration must be taken at face value, as a stop over at the hotel, either for food or for overnight lodging. The hotel also had a dining room, and the register may have been used as a guest register.

LIST OF OHIO SUBSCRIBERS FOR BIBLE DICTIONARY, c1801-1809

by Alice Heath Baker for Delaware County Chapter OGS

The following information was taken from the Bible Dictionary that belonged to REV. JOSEPH HUGHES, the first Presbyterian minister in Delaware County. Rev. Hughes is credited with starting Liberty Presbyterian, Radnor (Old Stone) Presbyterian and First Presbyterian Church in the City of Delaware. The book is currently in the possession of Mrs. John Kuhns, 695 Lawrence Rd., Delaware OH 43015, the wife of one of Rev. Hughes' direct descendants.

The book was published sometime between 1801 and 1809, as it begins with the statement: "Thomas Jefferson, President of the United States..." In order to publish the book, money was donated by subscribers who are listed in the front by state and county. This list is under "State of Ohio." However, Dearborn Co. Indiana is mistakenly listed under Ohio. The list has been alphabetized, with places of residence following the names.

HAMILTON COUNTY ROAD RECORDS

Alma Aicholtz Smith, CGRS, 554 Anna May Dr., Cincinnati OH 45244

Road records in county engineer's offices should not be overlooked as sources of genealogical information. Memorials and petitions for vacation of roads contain signatures of early land-owners. A memorial is a statement of facts presented to a legislative body as a ground for a petition. The following memorial for a vacation of a road in Anderson Township is from Hamilton County, Ohio Road Record Book, 1793-1810, page 438.

March 17th 1809

To the Honorable the County Commissioners for Hamilton County

The Memorial of the undersigned Citizens of the said County of Hamilton.

Respectfully sheweth that your memorialists are impressed with an opinion that the Road leading from Shepherd Armstrong's Mill on the Little Miami through the lands of Isaac Edwards in Anderson Township to Andersons State Road is of manifest injury to the premises of said Edwards and produces no correspondent benefit to the public, the farm of said Edwards being already cut by several Roads passing through it in nearly the same direction as that now objected to.

Your memorialists therefore beg to call the attention of the Commissioners to the 10th Section of a Law regulating Highways passed at Chillicothe Feb 20th 1809, which provides for the vacating of public roads considered useless. The prayer of your memorialists is that the aforesaid road may be vacated in the manner prescribed by Law.

LUCAS COUNTY PREPARES FOR WAR

Submitted by Beverly Todd Reed for Lucas County Chapter OGS

PATRIOTS, ATTEND! RALLY TONIGHT! The time has come when all who love their country are called on to stand by the flag. Treason has raised its head within the pale of our glorious country - traitorous bands have struck down the National Flag, and the Government calls upon all true patriots to assist in vindicating its authority. In order that an expression of feeling may be made on this important subject, a meeting is hereby called for consultation. Let party ties and party feeling be forgotten in this hour of our country's peril, and let the people assemble tonight at Union Depot. (Daily Toledo Blade, 15 Apr 1861)

LUCAS COUNTY PREPARES FOR WAR

In all great crisis in the world's history, a certain responsibility attaches to the Young Man. To ascertain the state of feeling existing among America's youths, in this, her hour of sadness, we propose a meeting be held in Stickney Hall this (Thurs) evening at 7 o'clock. Let all who glory in the title of Young America, turn out. (Daily Toledo Blade, 18 Apr 1861 p3)

COUNTY INFIRMARY BURIALS
Mahoning County, Ohio

The "Old County Home" on Herbert Road in Canfield Township, Mahoning County, Ohio, had various names over the years. Called the "County Home", the "Poor House" and the "Infirmary", it was actually all three. People who were homeless, infirm, the elderly, the very young, rich, poor, white or 'colored' were taken care of here. Some stayed only a short time, perhaps until they found work or 'got better'. Some came here to stay until they died, whether it be from illness or old age. Many were alone in the world and had no-one to care for them. Women gave birth here, as evidenced by those entries that state in the records "still born child".

So far we have not been able to establish when the home was built. It was, apparently, after the Civil War. There were at least 2 fires at the home over the years and the very earliest records are presumed to have been lost.

There is a large volume in the County Commissioner's office titled: REGISTER OF MAHONING COUNTY INFIRMARY. It contains the names of all those people who were admitted to the home during the years 1889 to 1935. Around 1,110 people died there and 438 were buried in the cemetery on the grounds. There are no tombstones, but a numbered tile was placed at each grave and that number was entered beside the name in the "REGISTER." Most of the tiles are still extant, so it may be possible to locate a particular grave, though we cannot promise that. To our knowledge these deaths are recorded nowhere else. We have checked the death records at the courthouse and at city hall. We did not check with the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Columbus, but those deaths entered here, that occurred before December, 1908, would not be on record there.

The people named in this list of 438 County Infirmary burials may, at some future date, be memorialized on a plaque at the site of the burials. The compiler felt, to make sure the correct names were engraved on the plaque, he should do some editing of the Christian names to avoid possible errors. For example, those abbreviations that are obviously shortened versions of a full name, and should not be used as entered (in the record book) were expanded to the full spelling. These include such abbreviations as: Wm. for William; Geo. for George and Jas. for James. Names that may be shortened versions of a name, but are often used as full names, were left exactly as found. These include such names as: Andy, Ed, Mike, Steve and Pete. Surnames were copied exactly as found.

Index. Order from Elva Bell McLin, 210 S. Bentz St., Athens, AL 35611. $25 postpaid.

John Bell emigrated from County Down, Ireland to New York in 1774. He served in the Revolutionary War from 1775-1781 and eventually became a farmer in Orange County, New York, an area settled largely by Scotch-Irish Presbyterians. Benjamin, son of John, was born in 1786, and was in Delaware Co. OH by 1816. He was one of the first to settle the area of Marion Co. His grandson, William Jackson Bell, was born in Ohio in 1844. William's wife, Martha Shirley, descended from John Ambrose Shirley who married in Marietta, Ohio in 1797. This well-written genealogy follows a timeline from ca. 1750-1909. The author effectively presents the contributions of the families to the development of the American frontier while providing important genealogical data. Some of the allied families are: Gray, Hull, Bass, and Payne. Descendants settled in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois. 1m

MAHONING COUNTY, OHIO MARRIAGE RECORDS, 1846-1870. Compiled from the courthouse marriage books by Jocelyn Fox Wilms. Margaret Miller Simon, editor. Published by Mahoning Co. The original marriage records for Mahoning County for the period between 1846 and 1870 are scattered throughout various county record books. Searching for a specific record is especially difficult. The chapter has worked since 1981 to produce this impressive book. A very helpful introduction will assist anyone in using the marriage records. Also included in the book is a useful list of ministers and JP's found in the marriage returns as well as a list of ministers licensed between 1846 and 1874. The index lists grooms, brides, applicants for licenses and parents, and all variations in the spelling of a surname. 1m

I WALKED THE FOOTSTEPS OF MY FATHERS (NARRATIVE). By Helen York Rose, 320 N. 6th, Seminole, OK 74868. Dogwood Printing. 1989. Soft Cover. 418 pp. Not indexed. Illustrations. $29.95 plus $2.25 postage.

This compilation has been a labor of love for the author. The main subject of her lifelong search has been her ancestor, Mary Castleman, who was captured in 1791 by Wyandot Indians in what is now western Ohio. While a captive, Mary married Abraham Williams, son of a white trader/Indian captive, and had two children. She was forced to leave them as infants when she escaped to rejoin her family around 1800. Mary's gravesite has been located in Portage County. The author was awarded First Families of Ohio status in 1979. Sally Williams, Mary's daughter, married a Delaware Indian, Solomon Journeycake, and eventually moved to Kansas. Many interesting photos, transcriptions and reproductions of documents relating to her Indian ancestors are included. An 1863 account of Mary's capture was located in the famous Draper Collection. In addition to her Indian heritage, the author has provided information on other children who were captured by Indians as well as data about her Castleman family of Pennsylvania and Ohio. An introductory ancestor chart illustrating the author's descent would have been helpful in this absorbing account of pioneer life. 1m
